Hopes Move Will End In Korean Peace

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Trygve Lie, buffeted from one side by the Kremlin and from the other by a U. S. congressional committee, submitted his resignation as secretary general of the United Nations yesterday.

In an emotion-choked voice, Lie told the General Assembly he was stepping aside in hope it would help bring peace to Korea. Russia has refused to deal with Lie because of his support of the U. N. in Korea.

Close associates said Lie was "fed up" with the Kremlin's attacks, with alleged sniping from the U. S. Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) and with actions of the U. N.'s Budget Committee slicing big bites from expenditures Lie thinks necessary.

The resignation will take effect when the General Assembly, acting on a Security Council recommendation, appoints a successor. The job pays $40,000 a year, but Lie's present term runs until Feb. 1, 1954. He did not set a deadline for appointment of his successor.

Lie's announcement, made with no advance warning, burst on the 60-nation Assembly which had gathered to hear a speech by Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

Schuman commented he would regret to see Lie's resignation accepted as this would break the continuity of the U. N.'s work.

The audience included U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Speaking slowly, Lie said: "I am stepping aside now because I hope this may help the United Nations to save the peace."

The secretary general referred obliquely to the hostility felt towards him by Russia because of his all-out support of the U. N. effort in Korea, and said:

"The United Nations has thrown back aggression in Korea. There can be an armistice if the Soviet Union, the Chinese People's Republic and the North Koreans are sincere in their wish to end the fighting."

"If they are sincere, then a new secretary general, who is the unanimous choice of the five great powers, the Security Council and of the General Assembly, may be more helpful than I can be. On the other hand, if the world situation should go from bad to worse, at least I would not want the position of secretary general to hinder in the slightest degree any hope of reaching a new understanding that would prevent world disaster."

The Russians have refused to recognize Lie as secretary general since his first five-year term ended Feb. 1, 1951. They refused to vote him an extension when the council took it up in November, 1950, and the U. S. threatened to veto anyone else. This difficulty was surmounted by having the vote-free Assembly extend his original term to 1954.

Lie was once foreign minister of Norway. He probably will retire to that country on his pension of $10,000 a year. Friends said he was looking forward to "a long rest."

Among those prominently mentioned as successors are Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, Nasrallah Entezam of Iran and Lester B. Pearson, foreign secretary of Canada.

President-Elect Pays Tribute To Philip Murray

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday paid tribute to CIO President Philip Murray, dead of a heart attack, as a man who "helped obtain increased protection for millions of American workers."

Murray died in San Francisco, early Sunday.

In a statement issued at his vacation headquarters here, Eisenhower said:

"I have just been informed of the passing of Philip Murray, president of the CIO. For many years, Mr. Murray has been an effective force in the labor movement of our country. His tireless efforts on behalf of the working men and women of his organization helped obtain increased protection for millions of American workers. I join with all others who had the opportunity to know him in mourning his death."

Pittsburgh (AP)—Walter P. Reuther and James B. Carey stood out yesterday as the two men with the best chance to be called upon to fill labor leader Philip Murray's job as president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Governor Fine Lifts Hunting Ban

Okays Delayed Opening Of Game Season

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday removed a no-hunting ban for all of Pennsylvania, effective at 7 a.m. today.

The action will enable 800,000 hunters to take to the fields and woods in quest of small game in any county of the state. The small game season, originally to have started Nov. 1, had been suspended because of a forest fire threat.

Fine previously opened 16 northwestern Pennsylvania counties to hunting last Saturday. His new proclamation listed the ban for the remainder of the state.

"I regret the disappointments and inconveniences to sportsmen and others," Fine said in a statement accompanying the proclamation.

(In connection with lifting the ban on hunting, District Forester E. C. Pyle last night called upon all hunters to be careful while smoking or building fires in or near woodlands. He pointed out that while the leaves may be wet on top, they probably are dry underneath and if the sun comes out for any length of time, the danger of forest fires will return.)

The no-hunting ban also was lifted in two adjoining states, New Jersey and New York.

Governor Driscoll of New Jersey removed restrictions against hunting in that state, effective at 9 a.m. today after rains diminished the danger of fires.

Gov. Dewey of New York removed the hunting ban in a 15-county area that had been kept closed by dry conditions after most of the state's woodlands were opened again.

Governor Fine was occupied all day checking weather reports and keeping in telephone conversation with individual members of the State Game Commission.

The proclamation was issued as wet, murky weather enveloped most of the state. It was the first real break in a month-long dry spell which left woodlands tinder-dry, except for heavy snows in western Pennsylvania last week.

The forecast was for cloudy and colder weather and a few snow flurries in the mountains during the night. Rather cloudy and not much change in temperature was the forecast for the daylight hours.

Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the Game Commission, said there has been no decision about what to do on sportsmen's requests to extend the small game season.

Nor has there been any ruling from the Justice Department to apply to cases involving demands for hunting license refunds. Lifting of the ban included all restrictions such as hunting, fishing, trapping, smoking within 200 feet of woodlands or burning camp or brush fires.

Doctor Suggests Less Comfortable Auto Windows

Miami, Fla. (AP)—An Army doctor suggested yesterday that automobile windows be made "less comfortable" so as to help prevent drivers from breaking their elbows.

Saying that doctors throughout the country are concerned "at the increasing number of fractures resulting from elbows protruding from car windows," Col. Milton S. Thompson of Brooke Army Hospital, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., told the 46th meeting of the Southern Medical Association.

"An item which contributes to car window accidents is the convenient location of the window sill."

"If the sills were either lower or higher, they would not be so conducive to elbow-resting."

"Some models do have sills 17 and 18 inches from the seat, but the average height is 15 to 16 inches, a most comfortable height for an elbow."

Sale In Operation

Harrisburg, (AP)—A week of trading on the harness horse market opened yesterday with 153 head selling for $86,125. A total of 1,198 trotters and pacers will change hands before the sale ends Friday.

Sight Wreckage

Anchorage, Alaska (AP)—Search planes sighted wreckage on an Alaskan mountain yesterday which may be the C119 that vanished Friday with 19 aboard.

Maybank Thinks Eisenhower To Gain Support Of Some Democrats In Congress

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower—counting heavily on winning support of Democrats in Congress—is likely to get it, Sen. Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina said yesterday.

"While he was in the Army," Maybank told reporters, "Eisenhower repeatedly demonstrated ability to get along with the members of both parties in Congress. The situation isn't quite the same now, but I believe he will make out all right."

Maybank was in town for a housing convention being held near Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club. The senator, influential in the councils of Southern Democrats said he had no plans to confer here with the President-elect.

Eisenhower spent the morning answering accumulated mail and then set out for a round of golf when the rain which had kept him indoors let up.

The general's headquarters said he had received President Truman's telegram saying Eisenhower's choice of pre-inauguration liaison representatives with the government was "eminently satisfactory."

Truman also said he appreciated Eisenhower's promptness in naming GOP Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Detroit banker Joseph M. Dodge to the liaison post.

In announcing the appointments Sunday, Eisenhower said Lodge—who was defeated in his bid for re-election—would be his personal representative in all federal departments and agencies except the Budget Bureau. He named Dodge to that bureau.

The President-elect's choices appeared to foreshadow important assignments for both Lodge and Dodge in the new Republican administration taking over when Eisenhower is inaugurated Jan. 20.

Lodge has been mentioned for either secretary of defense or secretary of state, and Eisenhower associates said privately they believe the general wouldn't be asking Dodge to help him out if he didn't have the Detroitier in mind for a major assignment in the new administration.

Eisenhower reportedly is planning to give his Budget Bureau director much more policy-making authority than the job has carried under the Democrats—and Dodge appeared likely to get the nod.

In predicting Eisenhower will be "making out all right" in Congress, Maybank said he wasn't losing sight of the razor-thin margin of control the Republicans will have.

Draft Board Summons 25 For Induction

Twenty-five Monroe County men have been ordered by Selective Service Board 105, Stroudsburg, to report Wednesday at Wilkes-Barre for induction into the Armed Forces.

Listed by the local office are the following:

John L. Price, Robert N. Hartman, Edwin F. Snyder, Francis E. Doleiden Jr., Guy E. Possinger, Duane W. Smith and George Rath, all of Stroudsburg.

Robert T. Klingner, Earl K. Singler Jr., Robert W. Hamblin, Chester J. Lang, and Elmer P. Seering, all of East Stroudsburg; Horace A. Johnson and Bruce C. Frantz, both of Scotrun.

Marvin M. Bechler, of Canadensis; Homer C. Argot, of Pocono Lake; Clayton J. Hoppie, of Saylorsburg; Carl H. Van Why, of Bushkill; Robert F. Flick, of Scioto; Robert F. Theos, of Mountain home.

Charles M. Nauman, of Cresco; George Parker Jr., of Hentysville; Eugene A. Biledeau Jr. and Melvin R. Frable, both of Kunkletown; Richard Knecht, of Long Pond.

Russell Backs Sen. Johnson

Washington, (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) announced yesterday he is supporting Sen. Lydon B. Johnson of Texas for Democratic leader of the Senate in the new Congress.

Russell himself has figured prominently in speculation as to who would get the assignment, but he predicted it would go to the Texan.

In the House, meanwhile, a prospective fight over the Republican leader's post was reported brewing. And a key Democratic seeking to avoid a similar dispute over the minority leadership predicted that Speaker of the House Rayburn will accept it. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) was favored by many Democrats in the event Rayburn declines the post.

The Senate Democratic leader's spot is vacant because of the defeat for re-election of Sen. McFarland of Arizona.

In the House, friends of Rep. Halleck of Indiana were talking of booming him for House speaker, the No. 1 spot of the Republican majority. It had been presumed that Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who held the job in the GOP-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48, would return to his old post.

Stevenson To Rest

Springfield, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, defeated Democratic presidential candidate, will vacation from Wednesday through the weekend at a Sanabe, Ariz., ranch owned by an old friend, Richard Jenkins.

Pickets Removed

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—Striking technicians removed picket lines from the site of the Atomic Energy Commission's huge H-bomb plant last night and radio appeals were broadcast for workers to return to their jobs.

Burns Fatal To Resident Of Dingmans

An aged Dingmans Ferry man died yesterday as a result of burns at his home Saturday.

He was Andrew Dingman, 81, found unconscious in his smoke-filled one-room shack two miles west of Dingmans Ferry on the Edgemere road.

It was about 6:50 a.m. when Gordon Shook, State Highway Department machine operator on his way to work nearby, saw smoke coming out of the shack. He stopped, got help, and dragged the unconscious Dingman out of the structure.

Dingman was sent to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, by ambulance. Authorities said he suffered severe third degree burns about the body and one foot. The other leg had been amputated above the knee—the result of an old accident.

There was no damage to the shack, according to Milford Fire Chief Foster Terwilliger. The cot or bed on which Dingman had been lying was almost consumed, however.

Terwilliger theorized that the aged man had been smoking and had fallen asleep. The fumes probably made him unconscious. Dingman's clothes had been burned from his body, according to the fire chief.

Dingman died at the hospital at 11:30 a.m. yesterday.

He was the son of the late Leg and Elizabeth Meyers Dingman. He had lived in Scranton part of his life, then moved to Dingmans Ferry.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. M. M. Dingman, East Stroudsburg, and a brother, Edward S. Hollywood, Fla.; nephews and nieces.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. Norman R. Savage officiating. Burial will be in Delaware Cemetery, Dingmans Ferry. There will be no viewing.

Short Leaves For Recruits

Washington, (AP)—Christmas and New Year leaves for more than 171,000 Army recruits will be limited to one-day passes under a holiday vacation schedule announced yesterday. Other Army personnel will be eligible for longer leaves.

The Army said the "critical requirements" for an interrupted flow of trained replacements to the forces overseas makes it impossible to suspend any basic training schedules this year. Training was suspended for 10 days last year.

Soldiers who have completed their 16-week basic training program will be eligible for leaves beginning Dec. 20 and ending Jan. 5.

A Navy spokesman said these are its plans.

Men who reported to boot camps on or after Nov. 7 will be eligible for holiday leaves but may be granted one-day passes.

Granting of holiday leaves for men who have completed their boot camp basic training will be left up to commanders.

Recruits who have completed six weeks of training will get up to 14 days between Dec. 20 and Jan. 4, but men taking leave at that time will have a proportionate period subtracted from the leave normally granted after completion of boot training.

Witness Repeats Shakedown Story

Washington (AP)—Abraham Teitelbaum appeared before a federal grand jury yesterday for a re-telling of his story that two men claiming high Washington connections tried to shake him down for $500,000 two years ago.

The well-to-do Chicago lawyer, who once represented the Capone interests, first told his story to a House subcommittee investigating tax scandals last December.

He testified he had been approached by Frank Nathan, a Pittsburgh promoter, and Bert Naster, Hollywood, Fla., businessman, who claimed to be in a league with a "clique" of Washington officials and who told him he would be in serious income tax trouble unless he met their demands.

Nathan and Naster both swore that Teitelbaum's story was untrue.

Vishinsky Turns Down Compromise On Repatriation

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky said flatly yesterday the Soviet Union will "not budge" from its demand for repatriation of all prisoners of war in Korea. He rejected two compromise proposals and renewed his appeal for a new commission to settle the Korean conflict.

An American spokesman said immediately that the U. N. never would consent to driving prisoners of war back to Communist countries against their will. Other delegations gloomily agreed that the Korean stalemate continued unabated and that Vishinsky had done nothing to point the way to a solution.

The red-faced Soviet foreign minister insisted time and again in a two-hour and 32-minute speech to the 60-nation U. N. Political Committee that a prisoner of war is a soldier and has no choice about repatriation under the Geneva Convention.

He injected a new element in the discussions here by charging that the United States was so insistent against repatriation because the U. S. wanted to use the prisoners to build up a force destined for subversive action against the Soviet Union and countries of the peoples' democracies—which is his way of referring to what the West calls the Communist bloc.

Shortly after Vishinsky spoke, U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced in a sudden, dramatic appearance before the full Assembly that he was resigning, effective immediately. Lie said the reason for his move was the hope that the big powers could agree on a secretary-general and thus take a step toward agreement on settling the Korean War. Lie has been on the Soviet blacklist since he urged the Security Council to meet the North Korean aggression at the start of the war in June, 1950.

Lie was the son of the late Leg and Elizabeth Meyers Dingman. He had lived in Scranton part of his life, then moved to Dingmans Ferry.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. M. M. Dingman, East Stroudsburg, and a brother, Edward S. Hollywood, Fla.; nephews and nieces.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. Norman R. Savage officiating. Burial will be in Delaware Cemetery, Dingmans Ferry. There will be no viewing.

Vishinsky warned that insistence by the United States and its allies on a 21-country resolution calling for non-forcible repatriation of war prisoners would wreck the Panmunjom talks and protract the war. He said the Geneva Convention on war prisoners and all other treaties relating to such questions in international law stated clearly that prisoners must be repatriated immediately.

In his resolution, he proposed that the assembly establish a commission for the peaceful settlement of the Korean question and suggested that the following be named to this group:

United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, the People's Republic of China (Communist China), India, Burma, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, the People's Democratic Republic of Korea (North Korea) and South Korea.

Then he proposed this assignment for the commission:

"To instruct this commission to take immediate measures for the settlement of the Korean question in the spirit of the unification of Korea, carried out by the Koreans themselves, under the supervision of the above mentioned commission, including the extending of all possible assistance to the repatriation of all prisoners of war by both sides."

Troops Await Ike's Arrival

Seoul (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army is preparing to receive President-elect Eisenhower and probably will plant a news blackout on all his movements until he leaves. This means the outside world would not even know the President-elect had arrived in Korea until he had departed the country.

Through Eisenhower's arrival date and itinerary have not been announced, a variety of units throughout Allied-held Korea are making definite and careful plans to receive him.

Allies Mark Armistice Day By Repulsing All Red Thrusts

Seoul, Korea, (AP)—United Nations forces threw back Communist attacks at points all along the rain-swept war front this Armistice Day in a land where there is no armistice.

Allied troops, in less than an hour of fighting, early today beat off 300 North Koreans attacking three hills south of Anchor Hill near the eastern end of the battle line.

The Allies yesterday repelled North Korean attacks on Anchor Hill and another crest to the south in 14 hours of bloody fighting. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said yesterday's attack cost the Reds 215 wounded dead and an estimated 364 wounded.

He testified he had been approached by Frank Nathan, a Pittsburgh promoter, and Bert Naster, Hollywood, Fla., businessman, who claimed to be in a league with a "clique" of Washington officials and who told him he would be in serious income tax trouble unless he met their demands.

Nathan and Naster both swore that Teitelbaum's story was untrue.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, announced that two new South Korean divisions and six more infantry regiments had been activated and would be ready for combat soon. This

Court Rejects Costello's Bid For Review

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court yesterday turned down big-time gambler Frank Costello's plea for a review of his contempt-of-Congress conviction.

The 61-year-old, Italian-born racketeer is serving an 18-month sentence in Atlanta Penitentiary for walking out on the Senate Crime Investigating Committee after refusing to answer a number of questions about his finances.

Barring a Supreme Court reversal of its position—a step the court rarely takes—he has no further recourse.

Costello went to prison last August. Since then Atty. Gen. McGranery has started court action to strip him of his American citizenship, as a preliminary to a proceeding to deport him.

Russia Aims At Scattering U.N. Resources

London, (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill last night accused Russia of blocking peace in Korea in an attempt to scatter the strength of the free world.

Churchill, delivering a major foreign policy address at the annual lord mayor's banquet, said he is anxious for peace in Korea but not "at the price of dishonor."

"It would be a dishonor," he continued, "to send thousands of helpless prisoners of war back by force to be massacred by the Chinese government, which boasts it has actually rid itself of two million of its own people."

Churchill declared that "every kind of reasonable proposal has been made by the Allies," adding: "There has been no doubt that so far it has been the policy of Moscow for reasons which are obvious to prevent an agreement from being reached. All these are matters of grave concern."

He said "there is no doubt that the absorption of so large a proportion of American and United Nations resources in the Far East is to the advantage of Moscow and of the Communist movement as a whole."

Water Gap Friends Hear From Dr. Robert Brueckner, Educator In South Africa

Delaware Water Gap—After some years of silence, Water Gap friends have heard from Dr. R. Robert Brueckner of South Africa. Dr. Brueckner came to the Water Gap when a young man and was the architect of the Castle Inn and Music Hall. These were planned according to suggestions of Dr. Brueckner who was reported to intend them to be used as a military school. Dr. Brueckner also planned and did most of the work of building the home on the hill that is now occupied by the Castle Inn. In this Dr. Brueckner had a free hand as to those plans.

He was widely known in Monroe County because of his activities in the County Sunday School Association and in Christian Endeavor work. In 1912 he went to Amantzintol, Durban, South Africa, to teach in the school started by the American Board of Missions. He proved invaluable as he could teach any subject and with a fixed habit of only four hours sleep any night was able to do much manual work.

also, and so, taught the African youths not to despise such labor. He taught them to make concrete block houses, and started cotton raising and fruit orchards.

During his furloughs home once each seven years, he sandwiched study at Columbia University in between his strenuous speaking tours and so took his M.A. and Ph.D. courses. Now at the age of 71, he is in charge of all the day schools within a radius of 150 miles of Durban, which means 1600 miles of travel every month to visit 104 schools with 15,000 pupils; and the disbursement of about 80,000 pounds each month. He writes those duties are the mechanics of his job; "but the joy and the burden of the position is the pastoral care which our teachers need."

He writes of the strained racial relationships between Nationalists (most Afrikaans) and the United Party (mostly British), with the government there Nationalist by a small majority. It "is taking an attitude in legislation regarding the Coloured (mixed blood) and the Afrikaans which thoughtful people feel is impracticable and will lead to increasing bitterness. The United Party has a more liberal attitude but at present no definite policy. The Nationalist wish all education work taken away from missionaries."

Dr. Brueckner's three daughters who delighted friends when they visited the Gap and Stroudsburg during his furloughs, are now grown. One is studying medicine;

Industrial Development To Be Aired

Hazleton—A new approach to regional industrial development will be launched for Northeastern Pennsylvania by two State Chamber of Commerce organizations here Monday, Nov. 17.

With the general economy of the state's Northeastern district reportedly running substantially behind the remainder of the Commonwealth, the community development committee of the State Chamber and Pennsylvania C. of C. executives will jointly sponsor a "United Front" meeting at the Allentown Hotel's new Sterling Room at 10 a.m.

Victor C. Diehm, Hazleton, chairman of the PSCC community development committee will preside. Moderator for the morning session will be Herbert J. Harris, president of the Pennsylvania State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

At the noon luncheon session G. E. Garnhart, director of real estate and insurance for Westinghouse Electric Corp. will speak. "Sound Methods for Industrial Growth" will be aired at the 2 p.m. conference, with Willis V. Jones, PSCC president and executive secretary of the Scranton Chamber of Commerce serving as moderator.

SAM Chapter Dines Tonight

A number of Monroe County members will attend the dinner meeting of the Allentown Chapter, Society for the Advancement of Management, at 6:30 p.m. today at White Farms Inn, Allentown.

Allen Hatfield Ottman, nationally known business consultant, will speak on "Planning for Increased Profits."

The Allentown Chapter received an award at the annual SAM fall conference held recently in New York City. The award was based on the percentage increase in membership, the chapter having placed fourth out of 52 after having been formed a little over a year ago.

Armistice Day Exercises To Follow Parade This Morning

County Vets In Charge Of Arrangements

Traditional Armistice Day exercises will take place here at 8 a. m. today when veterans' organizations assemble at the American Legion monument in East Stroudsburg to begin a series of programs climaxed at 11 a. m. with solemn tributes in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

Following the placing of a wreath at the Legion monument, veterans' leaders will assemble at the Doughboy monument in the Court House Square, Stroudsburg, at 8:30 for similar ceremonies.

A six-division parade with six musical aggregations in line will leave from East Stroudsburg High School on N. Courtland St. promptly at 9 a. m., proceed down Courtland to Crystal St., to Washington St. and across the twin-borough bridge into Stroudsburg. The units will halt momentarily at Seventh and Main Sts. for tribute to the Doughboy monument, then proceed to Stroudsburg High School for exercises.

The sixth division, comprising the East Stroudsburg High School Band, will counter-march at the eastern end of the bridge, returning to East Stroudsburg Junior High School for its program.

Elmer Christine, Monroe County district attorney and senior vice commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will address the assembly at Stroudsburg High School auditorium, with the program slated to start about 10:15 a. m.

Leo Achterman, Stroudsburg attorney, will be the principal speaker for the program at 10 a. m. in East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

After both programs conclude at 11 a. m. schools in the boroughs will dismiss classes for the remainder of the day.

Two Selected For Tax Jobs

Washington, (AP)—Edward G. Dougherty will be named district commissioner of internal revenue and Leslie R. Miles will be the new internal revenue director at Philadelphia. It was learned officially yesterday.

Official announcement of the two appointments, stemming from the Internal Revenue Bureau's nationwide reorganization program, was being withheld until today.

A spokesman for the bureau said the exact territory to be covered under the Office of District Commissioner, which would be headed by Dougherty, has not yet been decided, but is likely to include Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

The district director, Miles, would perform the tasks and be responsible for collections in the same area previously under the jurisdiction of the collector of internal revenue at Philadelphia.

The spokesman said directorships for Scranton, Pittsburgh, Wilmington, Newark and Camden would also be announced today.

Auer Arrested

Leonard Auer, 40, of 75 Ananionk St., East Stroudsburg, has been charged with driving while intoxicated, it was reported yesterday. He was arrested by Stroudsburg borough police and committed to the county jail by Chief James McConnell. He was later freed on $300 bond by Justice of the Peace William N. Walton.

Explorer Condr, Donald B. MacMillan, reports the National Geographic Society, claims that a friend left his pants on the ice off Siberia in 1881 and they were found at Cape Farewell, Greenland, in 1884, indicating the drift of polar ice.

FRANK BURNSIDE, Wilkes-Barre department store operator, chats with Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association president Bert George just before telling merchants at Wyckoff's tearoom of need to become "Minute Men of the 20th Century."

Offices, Banks Plan Observance Of Armistice Day

Monroe County banks, post offices, the Court House, state and federal government branch headquarters are closed today in observance of Armistice Day.

Most schools in the county will be open at least part of the day. Many are preparing for patriotic assembly programs to commemorate the day. St. Matthew's Parochial School in East Stroudsburg is closed for the day.

Because of parade activities climaxed with programs in Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg Junior High School, schools in both boroughs will dismiss at 11 a. m.

Unit Invites Reservists To Sessions

All Armed Forces reservists were invited last night to attend sessions of the newly-organized 2001st Organized Reserve Army Service Unit in East Stroudsburg.

It is a branch of the Scranton Organized Reserve Corps School. Officers or men may gain retirement point credits by attending.

Meetings are held on the second and last Monday of each month at 9 p. m. at the home of Dr. Evan Reese, 162 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

At present the school is attended mostly by medical department personnel, but it was stressed any other enlisted or officer personnel could also attend, regardless of branch of service.

In the new school are: Reese, a colonel in the Medical Corps; Lincoln G. Kutscher, East Stroudsburg, major in the Veterinary Corps; Clifford K. Okuno, East Stroudsburg RD3, major in the Medical Service Corps; Charles H. Rushmore, East Stroudsburg; Harold S. Pond, Stroudsburg, and Edward T. Horn Jr., Tannersville, all majors in the Medical Corps; John J. Martucci, Brodheadsville, captain in the Medical Corps; David G. Peilly, Stroudsburg, major in the Dental Corps; and Sgt. James Wilson, Stroudsburg.

Husband Slain In Love Triangle

PUNXSUTAWNEY, (AP)—An avenging husband and a neighboring bachelor farmer met face to face in a brief, drama-packed gun-duel and when the smoke cleared, the husband lay dead in a barnyard.

Sheriff Paul W. Jeffries of Indiana County said C. E. Peterman, 55, was killed Sunday night outside his Smicksburg home after he stalked George Spitel, 33, in an attempt to end what the sheriff called an 18-month romance between Spitel and the victim's wife.

Jeffries said Spitel and Mrs. Dorothy Peterman, 33-year-old mother of four, had been "romancing" for about 18 months when Peterman got wind of it. He said about two weeks ago Peterman ordered Spitel, who lives on his father's farm next door, to leave the neighborhood.

Internal Depravity Seen As Greatest Threat To America

Biggest threat to America is not Russian aggression but "internal depravity," Stroudsburg merchants were told last night.

That was the opinion of Frank Burnside, Wilkes-Barre, president of the Pennsylvania Retailers Association.

"I believe," he told the members of the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association at Wyckoff's tearoom, "that as individuals and as a nation we are literally on the brink of disaster."

Burnside went on to explain that he was talking about an America, the one confronting the newly-elected president, which is "literally rotting at its moral and spiritual core." This he laid to the "preachments of easy money and the glorification of the easy life" by "bureaucratic planners."

"General moral deterioration" has permeated all segments of American life, Burnside held—not only the political segments but the business and professional segments as well.

He went on to warn against a complacent attitude of "let Ike do it," pointed out that Ike can only help the citizens to "help themselves."

It must be made "crystal clear," as Burnside phrased it, that the "goal of social planners is the destruction of individual initiative."

"The future of America," he said, will be determined by "our success or failure in dealing with internal depravity not Russian aggression."

Mr. Burnside then advised each citizen to become a "potent living example" of the Christian ethic. "The Golden Rule and the Commandments," he also suggested asking divine guidance.

Lack of "old-fashioned genuine Americanism" and "genuine Christianity" in U. S. leadership has resulted in political, social and economic unrest, Burnside said, "not only in our own country but in the whole world."

Mr. Burnside operates a Wilkes-Barre department store.

Church Members Receive Paper

Delaware Water Gap—With the church secretary, Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, as editor, the "Mountain Messenger" November issue was mimeographed and reached each member of the Presbyterian Church here last week. It has five pages of church news, reports of Youth Fellowship activities, Sunday School items and announcements of future church events. It informs the Women's Auxiliary that their November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. J. LaBar today, with Miss Lillian Stark as guest speaker. Theme will be "Thanksgiving and History."

Dr. Harold A. Tattersall, Mt. Home, Pa., will be on vacation from Saturday, Nov. 8th returning November 27th.—Adv.

Stores Study Proposal For Vacationers

Plans for providing transportation from Monroe's vacation centers to the Stroudsburg's shopping centers was discussed last night at the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association meeting.

More summer vacationers would like to shop, said Jerry Avion, chairman of the transportation committee, but they have no means of reaching the Stroudsburg shopping district.

Avion's committee thinks some sort of bus transportation would do the job, but details will be reported until the next meeting, Dec. 1. Avion said his committee had conducted a survey of the transportation problem.

Officers will be elected at the December meeting. Last night a nominating committee was named: Ted Getz, chairman, and Max Stadfeld and Harry Phillip.

Last night's session was presided over by Bert George, president of the association. Speaker was Frank Burnside, president of the Pennsylvania Retailers Association.

Christmas lights will again be a feature of Stroudsburg decorations, it was decided. This year streamers and pole decorations will be added to the lights.

Frank Weller, who raised funds to pay the costs of the decoration, was thanked by association members.

Chapter To Meet

A board meeting of the Monroe County unit, American Cancer Society, will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday at the board room of the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Diabetes Check Scheduled All Of Next Week

All of the more than 33,000 persons in Monroe County are expected to cooperate with the Monroe County Medical Society's co-operative project to discover and eradicate diabetes during the week of Nov. 16 through Nov. 22.

In collaboration with the American Diabetes Association, the local medical society has set up a system which is to be used on a nationwide scale for the diabetes check.

Every resident of the county is asked to submit a sample of urine—about one ounce—to his physician, or nearest physician or drug store. Container is to be sealed and carry a label bearing the name, address, age and sex and the name of family physician.

Without cost the Monroe County Medical Society will conduct a urinalysis. If there is a positive discovery—that diabetes is evident—both the individual and the family physician will be immediately advised.

There are some 1,000,000 persons in the nation who have diabetes without knowing it, Monroe County Medical Society officials said yesterday.

Since diabetes is the only chronic disease for which there is a known control, local Medical Society officials are hopeful if any cases exist here without the knowledge of the person afflicted, they will be discovered by next week's project so that adequate measures can be taken to effect a prompt cure.

Buck Hit By Bus And Car

Delaware Water Gap — A six-prong deer darted into the path of a northbound bus near here at 11 p. m. Saturday, was crippled when the bus hit it a glancing blow then spun into the path of a southbound car and was killed. The buck was taken to the home of Elmer Walter, of Shawnee, game warden in this section, by two passing motorists. Front end of the automobile was damaged.

London Installs New Lord Mayor

London (AP)—The tradition-loving city of London, a small area of great offices in the heart of the metropolis, inaugurated its new lord mayor in a glitter of pageantry yesterday.

The new chief executive, 59-year-old Sir Rupert de la Bere, who will be the coronation year lord mayor, rode through cheering throngs in a colorful parade in the district dominated by St. Paul's Cathedral.

The lord mayor, in tricorn hat and scarlet robe, beamed happily as he sat in his red and gold coach drawn by six spirited horses. In the procession, known as the Lord Mayor's Show, were a dozen bands, formations of 32 military and naval organizations and hundreds of officials and dignitaries, many of them in costumes of the middle ages.

Roberts Murder Trial Put Off Until February At Request Of Defense Counsel

Wilkes-Barre—Counsel for Jonah L. Roberts, 46, Edwardsville machinist, charged with killing his wife last June in Bear Creek, yesterday won a second continuance of the murder trial, which is now set for February.

Originally scheduled for Sept. 29, the trial was set back to next Monday because of the defendant's health.

Shortly before noon yesterday, Attorney Frank Slattery Jr., appeared before Luzerne County Judge Frank L. Pinola with a lengthy petition requesting another continuance on grounds that pre-trial publicity has prejudiced prospective jurors against the defendant.

Mr. Slattery cited newspaper accounts of the killing and subsequent events, including Roberts' arrest and protracted court hearings.

In particular, however, he attacked stories of the case in "numerous" detective magazines—four of which he produced in court—as "jurid and sensational accounts." Mr. Slattery told court it is his "firm opinion that the defendant could not receive a fair and impartial trial under the circumstances if the case is called to trial Monday."

"If a delay is granted," he added, "it will provide an opportunity for the prejudiced and biased opinion in Luzerne County to quiet down." Mr. Slattery also cited a recent murder case in New England in which a convicted man was granted a new trial on grounds that pre trial publicity had prejudiced jurors.

Judge Pinola took exception to Mr. Slattery's contentions regarding newspapers, pointing out that regional papers published factual accounts of the "proceedings." He agreed with the defense attorney's claims in regard to the magazine articles.

Attorney Slattery also told court that he and one of Roberts' sons—he did not identify the son—have received a number of anonymous telephone calls in which the caller made "insulting and threatening remarks." He did not reveal the nature of the remarks.

Judge Pinola granted the continuance after remarking that "the

Former County Resident Dies

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Minnie Bush, of 126 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg, of the death of her cousin, Mrs. Emma Johnson Burke, 76, former resident of Shawnee.

Mrs. Burke died Sunday in General Hospital, Morgantown, W. Va. Funeral services will be conducted at Morgantown today. Several cousins residing in Monroe County are among the survivors.

Whitmore Funeral Rites Conducted

Services for Franklin Benjamin Whitmore, 65, of East Stroudsburg RD3, were held yesterday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiating.

Burial was at Prospect Cemetery, East Stroudsburg. Pallbearers were Elmer Oney, Nelson Whitmore, Charles Hilgert, James Hilgert, Lefroy Whitmore and Ronald Nauman.

Burial Rites For Soldier To Take Place

Cpl. Arthur Flower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Flower, 1009 Broad St., Collingdale, Pa., former residents of Mount Pocono, who was killed in action in Korea September 9, will be buried in Collingdale Saturday.

The body of the Mount Pocono native has been returned to this country for interment. Full military honors will be accorded at funeral services at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Mariner's Bethel Memorial Church, Collingdale.

Friends may pay respects at the Fleming funeral home, Woodlawn Ave. and Chestnut St., Collingdale, Friday night.

The Collingdale Post 669, American Legion will have charge of Military services to be conducted at 8:30 p. m. Friday. Interment will be made in Collingdale's Arlington Cemetery.

Services Held For Mrs. Turn

Service for Mrs. Kate Turn, 93, Bushkill and New York City, were held yesterday at Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home, Stroudsburg, with Rev. John H. Lackey officiating.

Burial was at Sand Hill Cemetery, Bushkill. Pallbearers were Ralph, John and Charles Turn, Albert DeFenzis.

court ought to lean over backwards to protect the rights of an accused man."

District Attorney Louis G. Feldmann told Judge Pinola that the Commonwealth is ready to try the case but said he has no objection to the continuance.

Go to Church

Another campaign is under way this November. It's a lot quieter than the election campaign, or the Community Chest campaign, but it's no less important to the individual.

It's the campaign of the National Laymen's Committee, composed of representatives of the three major faiths, and it is directed at church attendance. It's called the Religion in American Life movement, and its slogan is "Show Them the Way."

This group is urging people to go to the church of their choice and, particularly, to take the children with them. They believe that one of the things this troubled old world needs is a resurgence of religious faith.

Appropriately, the drive is headed by Charles E. Wilson, former director of defense mobilization. Certainly, we need moral mobilization as much as we need any other kind.

Back to Normalcy

Well, the tumult and the shouting have died, as countless radio commentators have said.

The excitement is over, hard feelings are being forgotten, and life must return to something approaching normal.

We should go back to work realizing that production—not politics—is the source of all our prosperity.

We should resolve to convert some of our campaign enthusiasm into a continuing interest in good government.

There still are plenty of issues before the American people—problems that only the people, themselves, can solve.

Traffic accidents are one such problem. Only the individual driver, and pedestrian, can solve it.

The frequent inhumanity of man to man is another real problem. Solve it and there would be little need for civil rights legislation.

The struggle between capital and labor will go on, because it is part of our free enterprise system, but in a great many cases the parties could well approach the bargaining table with more intelligence and less emotion.

The Community Chest drives are an issue right now. Are we, or are we not, going to give enough to those who need our help?

And a very real individual problem is the approach of Christmas.

We have plenty to occupy our minds, and energies, and hearts.

A German shepherd dog can respond at 125 feet to a command not heard by a man only 20 feet away.

The so-called "falls" of the great east coast rivers of the United States are seldom more than rapids.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Ching Nu-Chi

One is ever learning new things about our relations with China.

Slowly the mosaic is being filled in showing the tragic pattern of errors which has brought on the greatest disaster in our history.

We have lost a war; we have lost an historic ally; we have become involved in the Korean War because of errors made in our China policy between 1945 and 1949.

In "The Enemy Within," a book on the Communist conquest of China by Father Raymond J. de Jaeger and Irene Corbally Kuhn, I read for the first time the story of Ching Nu-chi, a Chinese Communist who had got the job of Chief Secretary of the Chinese Documents Secretariat under General George Marshall. Little by little, the story unfolds, mostly in books written by those who were on the scene or by those who have access to hidden documents.

Ching Nu-chi had been a student in Chicago. In China, he was employed by the American Government and served the Marshall mission in China. As he was in charge of everything translated from the Chinese, he was in a pivotal position to twist all the documents to favor the Chinese Communists. He could withhold data which Marshall should have seen. Subsequently, he wrote a book, entitled "Secret Report on the United States—

Chiang Kai-shek Conspiracy." This was published in Hongkong in 1949. It disclosed the Communist character of this American employee.

Ching Nu-chi was in a position to know the plans and secrets of both the Marshall and Wedemeyer missions to China; in his book he publishes some top secret documents which are still unknown to the American people. For approximately four years, this Chinese Communist was so employed. It is a little difficult to understand what our intelligence officers were doing when they permitted such conditions to exist, or were they helpless in the face of General George Marshall's obvious preference for Chinese Communists?

Father de Jaeger tells of a curious experience with General Marshall's office in Peiping. He had tried to make an appointment to see General Marshall through Captain James Grant. He went to the headquarters in Peiping, but Captain Grant had gone to Mukden. Instead he encountered a Chinese attendant. Let me give it in Father de Jaeger's words:

"The Chinese looked me over with curling lip and patronizing air."

"The General is very busy. He won't be able to see you," he said with the faintest shade of contempt on the you. "Besides," he added, "he knows whatever it is that you think you can tell him!"

"This gratuitous observation made me quite angry."

"How do you know what is in my head?" I asked him. "I don't pretend to know what is in yours."

"He made a sarcastic rejoinder and we had a small argument, but I soon saw that he had no intention of checking on any appointment Captain Grant may have made for me or making any slightest effort in my behalf. I made no further attempt to see General Marshall at this time, since he was leaving Peiping almost at once."

Apparently the Chinese Communists had so thoroughly surrounded General Marshall in Peiping that it was difficult for others to see him. This was the period when Marshall was organizing truce talks similar to those from which we are now suffering in Korea. After months of talks and maneuvering, the Chinese Communists had placed themselves in position to hold Manchuria and to invade North China. Actually, General Marshall's strategy had accomplished for the Chinese Communists what they could not accomplish for themselves.

Father de Jaeger, who tells of these incidents as an eyewitness, is a Belgian priest who has been a missionary in China and who was caught in the Communist conquest of China. His description of this period is exciting and historically important.

Father Mark Tennen writes of a later period in this conquest in his book "No Secret is Safe—Behind the Bamboo Curtain." While Father de Jaeger presents the political and social transformation of China, Father Tennen gives the human side of the tribulations and trials of an innocent people tortured by their own sons in the interests of an enemy.

And so the story, about which so many official lies were told, comes to us in detailed truth. And there will be more to follow.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

A pretty secretary at the United Nations complained to her boss that an amorous delegate was making advances to her. "Why tell me?" grumbled the boss. "You've always been able to take care of yourself. Sock him in the jaw!" "Not that bird," sighed the secretary. "He has diplomatic immunity."

A health crank, partial to yogurt and such like, felt a sudden craving for a plate of clam chowder. He took the precaution of presenting the waiter with two huge vitamin pills, instructing him to dissolve them in the chowder before serving. When a half hour went by without the chowder, the customer collared the waiter and hollered, "Why am I receiving no service around here?" "You'll get your chowder, sir," soothed the servant. "The minute we can get the clams to lie down."

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington, Nov. 10—Maybe now the college professors will go back to teaching at Harvard and our Supreme Court justices will quit climbing mountains and sit back on the bench.

Maybe, too, our ambassadors and foreign service officers, who returned to the United States on government travel vouchers so they could make speeches for the Democrats, will return to their posts. It could be also that our generals and admirals in the Pentagon will get down to business and quit yessing our lamented President, Harry S. Truman, who ought to keep his mouth shut between now and January 20. He's got a lot of packing to do.

Truman naturally didn't like what happened to him but he couldn't keep his snide mind under control even when he was congratulating President-elect Eisenhower and offering him the presidential plane for a trip to Korea. He said Eisenhower could use the plane if he "sail" intended to make the trip. Eisenhower meant what he said during the campaign, but Truman, reflecting on his own political morality, assumed it was just a campaign promise.

Washington, of course, will never be quite the same again. Gone will be the Left Wingers and their Communist friends who shuttled in and out of the White House and government bureaus on their little errands for the Kremlin. Now, maybe, there will be somebody around with guts enough to slam the door in their faces.

Gone, also, will be the eternal crises, which were pumped out of the Pentagon, White House or State Department every time the American people got restless about the political fixing and thievery. Each request for additional billions to spend was accompanied by a crisis of a size proportionate to the amount of money demanded.

Missing, too, will be the hordes of government publicity experts and their puppets of press and radio who rose to glory on the exclusive handout while idling in their office swivel chairs. Elmer Davis, for instance, won't find the pearls that drop from Dean Acheson's lips quite as newsworthy after Acheson retires to the lucrative law practice of representing foreign governments, some of which are behind the Iron Curtain.

The Washington Post may have to hire reporters instead of relying on White House tips; Thomas L. Stokes, Marquis Childs, Lowell Mellett and Drew Pearson may even be reduced to printing facts. What a sad day it is for the gumshoe artists who got fat in the business of peddling fair deal propaganda while posing as working members of the press and radio.

It will be interesting now, as well, to watch the McCarthy haters run for cover once the new administration gets the key to Mr. Truman's private subversive file. We may locate the list of 151 high-grade Reds who worked with the Soviet espionage net in Canada that walked off with half our atom bomb secrets. We may even find out where the rest of the Reds are on the federal payroll, and even more startling see something done about it in Washington.

Nobody is expecting miracles, but it is certain there will be some changes made. A lot of the knife artists who were kicking the campaign while he was climbing back on the hand wagon and some of them may even make it. Several have tried it already and some, who sniffed an Eisenhower victory before the election, were around knocking on the door weeks ago.

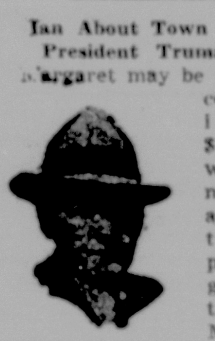

One, in particular, is worth noting. He is Edward Morgan, who served as counsel for the Tydings whitewash investigation of McCarthy's Communist charges. Morgan has done other services for the Democrats, including a last-minute campaign appearance in Wisconsin with Senator McCarthy's opponent. He didn't quite say he represented the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but he did say that McCarthy's charges were all phony. He left such a good impression that J. Edgar Hoover had to wire Wisconsin newspapers that Morgan had no official connection with the FBI, other than having worked there five years previously. Morgan hurt McCarthy, which, as a speaker for the Democratic party, he was supposed to do.

But for the benefit of the Democrats and President-elect Eisenhower as well, I think it's only fair to point out that shortly before Morgan journeyed to Wisconsin he paid a call on the Republican National Committee in Washington. He wanted a job heading up the committee's investigating staff. Somebody had the sense to tell him to take a walk.

Let's keep it that way with him and all the others who will find that in their secret hearts they loved Eisenhower all along

President Truman and daughter Margaret may be interested in a certified standing offer of $15,000 per week for a 5 minute teevy appearance. He to play the piano and Margaret to sing on the Arthur Murray program. The source is the Conaway Agency's Robert Maurice. He swears the agency has several similar offers. . . . B. Baruch went to sleep happy after Connecticut went for Ike, for whom he voted. We reported (for 3 months) that he would vote for Ike and every time we did so—it was "denied" in a local col'm which has denied 14 WW recent items since confirmed. . . .

The election statement the Prez promised (and never made) will probably be: "Now you know why I didn't run" . . . Memo for Senator Benton's crepe: "Go on Borey Yellow's program and get defeated!" . . . Raymond G. Swing, the Voice of America's chief news commentator, plans to resign from the Dept. of State after completing an around-the-globe trip. . . . The Election cost The Mob (from coast to coast) a mint even for many of the percentage boys. . . . Macy's has rec'd 23 calls from chucklers who said: "Would it be possible sometime this week to arrange for the use of your most prominent window?"

A pro-Commy committee, which has been trying to get a new trail for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg (the atom spies sentenced to death), plan a dramatic appeal to Eisenhower for clemency. They will also appeal to the public, asking for spiritual guardians for their two children. . . . Leftwingers are readying a squeeze play to entrap Ike. They will clamor for the appointment of a commission of phony liberals—to study Internal Security and Communism. To whitewash and play down the Red menace. . . . The "A.V.T." fellow-traveler we warned about, Alfred Van Tassel (died by Trygve Lie from his high UN post), was branded here last Spring and again the other '6cast.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

A couple of friends from Hollywood visited us.

They are on a wonderful trip. They flew to New York from California. They stopped at the very best hotel in its very best suite. They saw every worth while show in town, went to every one of the famous restaurants.

Then they hired a very expensive car and went touring. They drove through New England's beautiful autumn countryside. They rode along the shores of Long Island Sound to Boston, then to Vermont and New Hampshire. They visited a mutual friend at Lake George and drove back to New York through the lovely Berkshires and storied Massachusetts.

Then they went to Washington, through Virginia and the Deep South to Florida and New Orleans, and from there through Texas and Arizona back to Hollywood.

"I certainly envy you," I said to them as we had lunch in our house.

holders in both companies will decide. . . . Att'n Comm. Monaghan: We are planning the first of the annual benefits (at Madison Sq. Garden in the Spring) for the Widows and Families of N.Y. Police and Firemen killed on duty. It will be bigger than our last Navy Relief Show. The tickets will be paid for by Mr. and Mrs. Greater New York and a few millionaires we know. . . . Great suggestion from Mrs. H. B. Morgan of Ware Shoals, S. C.: "Dear Mr. W.: Please suggest that at Eisenhower's inaugural the best seats and standing room be reserved for widows and children of our men killed in Korea—with all wearing Gold Stars over their hearts or on mourning bands."

C. W. Mackay of The Baltimore Afro-American (which embraced Josephine Baker and lynched us) has the reddest face. . . . On that editorial page (frated as a leading Democratic Negro voice) Mackay takes his place with Merkle of the Giants (who in a World's Series forgot to touch 2nd base).

My wife had made hamburgers for them and French fried potatoes, a delicious salad with Roquefort dressing and a Danish dessert.

Both of them like polite guests swore to high heaven that this was the best meal they had had on the entire trip.

At any rate, both of them had two helpings, so it must have been pretty good at that.

"Yes, I do envy you," I said to the husband, "but it must cost an awful lot of money to take a trip like yours. More than I could afford."

So he told me a little about his life and then wanted to know whether I still envied him.

He had worked hard for the past 33 years—in the real estate business. In all these years he had never taken a vacation, although he let his wife and children go away every summer.

He was almost 60 now, and pretty tired, and the doctor told him he needed a rest.

He laughed at the doctor. He had never rested in all his life. He wouldn't know what to do with himself unless he could work six days in the week. (Mind you, he said SIX, not FIVE like most people work today.)

So the doctor told him that unless he rested some NOW he might very soon go to his FINAL rest.

And then the doctor drew him a chart that scared him. He drew a straight line. Then he drew 15 vertical lines. He numbered the vertical lines 0, 5, 10, 15 and so on up to 70. "How old are you now?" he asked. "Sixty," said my friend. So then the doctor shaded the whole business with horizontal lines up to 60, and to make it even more clear, drew a big cross through the shaded space. Twelve of the 14 spaces between the lines were left unshaded. "Only two were left unshaded."

"That's your life," said the doctor. "Most of it is gone, as you see. There are only two white spaces left—provided you live until you are 70. Twelve-fourteenths of your life has gone. Only two-fourteenths are left."

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Alexis Smith made a resolution last New Year's. It was to maintain integrity in her work; be choosier about her roles. Until, at least, she got hungry.

Well, she hasn't gone hungry —though she hasn't worked as often. Recently she played "a healthy, normal girl in skirts and blouses" in "The Turning Point."

"I couldn't have been happier unless I was in jeans," Alexis told me between rehearsals for CBS' "Stars Over Hollywood." For actually, she said, a lot of the screen characters she has played were "pretty dull."

They were selfish, shallow dames who concentrated on clothes and appearance. Once her husband, Craig Stevens, compared her in these roles with the false fireplace they had in their apartment. "No chimney," he said.

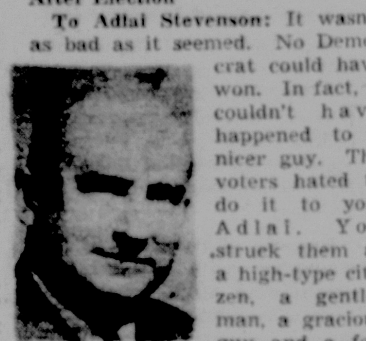

There was the stage in her career as a clothes horse, Alexis recalled, where she took her man away from some other woman: Boyer from Fontaine in "The Constant Nymph" . . . Dennis Morgan from Ann Sheridan in "One More Tomorrow" . . . Bogart from Stanwyck in "The Two Mrs. Carrs."

Miss Smith keeps working to develop as an actress. She did eight weeks of Eastern stock this summer and got enthusiastic reviews. She takes three ballet and two singing lessons a week. Also a piano lesson, but that's just for fun.

Letters For The Week After Election

To Adlai Stevenson: It wasn't as bad as it seemed. No Democrat could have won. In fact, it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy. The voters hated to do it to you. Adlai. You struck them as a high-type citizen, a gentleman, a gracious guy and a fellow low with plenty of charm and ability. It was just your bad luck to be the nominee in one of those years when the people were fed up with a Party, its long run, its policies, its stubbornness and some of its characters. No Democrat could have made the White House in the 1952 election, even with mirrors, magic wands and ukelele music. "This Way Out!" was the national mood completely eclipsing, "You Never Had It So Good." I think you knew it all the time. In most of your speeches before the nomination and after there was something of the "Why did it have to be me?" mood. But you put up a gallant fight, kept it light, made a lot of friends and proved a whale of a good loser. Happy New Year!

To President Truman: The folks did everything to you but break up your piano, but they admit you have your points and that they include guts, determination, and a rather admirable cockiness. Whatever your future may be, you will be more popular with millions than you were when President. Most Americans see in you a little of themselves, their Uncle Abner, a well-meaning neighbor, the head man of the local Rotary Club and a good friend of any man, up to the time he turns Republican. You were President during an extra rough trip on the Ship of State and if you blew your top, whipped up a few weird letters, started your own S.O.B. Club, got extra violent when rubbed the wrong way and yelled "Liar!" "Red herring" and "Snollygoster" when others got the evidence in first, how many people don't? Your chief trouble was that you zigged when you should have zagged, and took that 1948 rescue trip by whistle stop too seriously.

But you were a battler all the way. There was no "chicken" in you. When you got good and sore it was a case of "Jennie, bar the door!" Those beach costumes were a little too loud, too, and you were never extra convincing when fishing in the Gulf Stream.

or joining Indian tribes. When you first took office you were a humble man and admitted it, but you outgrew the mood too fast, which is a common weakness. Your biggest error was putting yourself willingly into public mind as a man who could put his arm around another man, tell him you would help him get anything he wanted and then treat him like the big bad wolf treated grandma.

However, the country will forgive and forget. It wishes you lots of luck. And it hopes you and Boss will be happy despite everything.

Nothing could be much more absurd than that Maryland coach's charge that Yale made it easy for a certain football star to enter the college. . . . It is an established fact that not even Prof. Einstein could get into Yale without passing the severest scholarship tests, even if he were a triple-threat football man, a no-hit pitcher and the athlete of the year. . . . General Electric says it is possible for human beings to see 500,000 different colors. . . . Especially if they were on Democratic tickets last week. . . . Bill Benton it seems to us, lost a lot of votes through a program on which he exploited himself too much in Connecticut. . . . A lot of politicians now concede that indorsement by the entertainment world can be the kiss of death. . . . A highlight of the campaign was the great sportsmanship of Bob Taft all the way. . . . We know a fellow who says he wants to see that new movie "Way of A Groucho" . . . The Administration took the controls off brooms a few days before the election and, judging by the result, it was an awful mistake. . . . Good sportsmanship is the post-election mood and we hear that even Truman is playing "Come On-a My House" on the White House piano as Republicans pass by.

How could Jim Farley have been so wrong? . . . It was almost as if Ike had given an order "Take no prisoners." . . . John Kieran called the election result the new Emancipation Proclamation. . . . The election left no doubt about one point: Most Americans are for an all-out war against Communism. . . . When the Republicans take over the White House, two selections for the brass band have already been chosen, "It's Been a Long, Long Time" and "After You're Gone." . . . The mystery of the recent election is how the poll takers experts, prophets and correspondents could have been so timid about Ike's chances.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

November isn't really gray — it's sort of opalescent, but it takes a certain frame of mind to appreciate that fact. When you face the Monday morning litter, and Monday morning tasks — it's a deadly monotonous gray that weighs down on your eyelids until you can barely hold them open.

When you're playing your role as a harassed taxi-driver trying to round up a family from the four points of the compass, the littered streets, the peeling paint on the houses you pass, the bundled pedestrians as so depressing that they weigh like a physical burden on your shoulders.

But when you're dressed and party-bound, there's a pearly sheen to the sky, a skipping feeling to the breeze, and a sense of hidden sunlight on the yellowing fields that is right exhilarating.

So often, the world we see through our eyes is but a reflection of the world within our minds, that it's sort of futile of us to go around crabbing about the weather.

There have been days in my life when a gusty, blowing, down-pour beat as gay a tattoo as foot ever marched to, and golden days that seemed as false and empty as a broken Christmas tree ornament.

The moral of which seems to be get your work done early, but who ever lives up to a moral?

Lillian Foley Is Wedded To Edw. J. Suden

Lillian Foley, of The Magdalen Apartments, Stokes Mill Rd., was married to Edward J. Suden, of Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, October 18. They were married at the Saint Simon Stock Church, at 182nd Street and Ryer Avenue, the Bronx, New York.

The bride wore a light blue suit with navy blue accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage. The matron of honor was Mrs. Louis Boushell, sister-in-law of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Suden spent their honeymoon at Cambridge Beaches, Somerset, Bermuda.

Mrs. Suden has been employed at the Art Metal Works of East Stroudsburg. Mr. Suden is a supervisor for Pabst Brewing Co., Bellaire, N. Y.

Plan Christmas Play At Mission December 26

Teachers and officers of the Fifth St. Mission met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pooley recently, with Superintendent John Neupert in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Nora Bradshaw reported the previous meeting.

Plans were made for the coming Christmas season with the annual Christmas play scheduled for Friday, December 26, instead of the customary Christmas night. Many of the cast have already been selected.

After the business meeting, the group honored Mrs. Angeline Custard and Mrs. Pooley on their birthdays. Mrs. Custard who celebrated her 82nd birthday on Monday is the oldest member of the Sunday School.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Custard, Mrs. Bradshaw, James Bradshaw, Mrs. Gladys March, Mr. and Mrs. John Neupert, Miss Eunice Reaser, Mr. and Mrs. William Barry, Miss Mildred Kintner, Pierre Lake, Mrs. Emma Cook, Diane Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Pooley.

Party Is Given Rena Phillips On Natal Day

Rena Lucille Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, of Wolf Hollow Road, celebrated her fourth birthday with a party at the home of her great-aunt, Mrs. Marvin Smith, East Stroudsburg.

The refreshments featured a cake baked by Mrs. Louis Caretta. Rena received gifts from: Cherie, Bonnie, Bobbie and Louis Caretta Jr., Linda and Gary Foley and Paul Cresserberg. The biggest gift of all for her, however, was a new baby brother, who was brought home from the hospital.

Adults present for the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips; Rena's grandfather, Charles Neyhart; Mrs. Margaret Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Cresserberg, of Columbia, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Caretta.

Mrs. John B. Stanford Is Honored At Club Meeting

The November meeting of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club held at the Stroud Community House yesterday afternoon was marked by two special features, the presentation of the Dr. Benjamin Rush award to Mrs. John B. Stanford, and the address of Alexander T. Lutoslawski, commentator on the Polish desk of Radio Free Europe.

Armistice Day was also recognized, the opening prayer by Mrs. E. H. Wyckoff being dedicated to Armistice Day, 1918, with the hope that another armistice we pray for will soon be a reality. Mrs. George T. Robinson, the president, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Dr. Evan C. Reese, on behalf of the Monroe County Medical Society, made the presentation of the Dr. Rush award, recognition of the splendid service of Mrs. Stanford in the cause of health. Dr. Reese paid tribute to the service and time and devotion of Mrs. Stanford, working quietly.

He said: "Wherever you find Mrs. Stanford, you find a job being well done, without complaint, and with no expectation of praise. However, the Monroe County Medical Society feel that such devotion to the cause of health in Monroe County should not go unrecognized, and hereby takes great pleasure in presenting to her this award. It is our way of saying, 'Thank You!'"

Mr. Lutoslawski told of the treaty of alliance with Hitler in 1939 in which Poland was deemed a free country of 35,000,000 inhabitants. Poland eventually decided to stand with the West. Russia consistently ignored the political concessions, he said.

The speaker brought out many circumstances showing the effect of Communism in the many countries and serious to Europe in general with 100,000,000 inhabitants affected, the speaker said. Preliminary steps to clear up the situation include such projects as Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia, a link between occupied countries and the West, operating through the Crusade for Freedom.

Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, recording secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. Claude D. Cramer, treasurer, submitted her report. Gretings were extended new members and guests by the president, Mrs. Robinson.

The report of voting machine instruction committee, Mrs. Alphonse Meyers and co-chairman, Mrs. Claude D. Leister was given showing the excellent work done. The radio committee, Mrs. Frank H. French, chairman, also brought out the fine work which had been performed in connection with the recent election.

Mrs. Charles Mott, it was stated would accept subscriptions to the Club Woman.

Announcement was also made that Mrs. Frank H. Kerr, American Home chairman, was sponsoring a new project, Mitten Tree for Christmas. Mittens may be made or bought by members for distribution to needy children in the community. Mrs. Kerr desires to receive replies before the Christmas meeting.

Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin, legislative chairman, brought up the matter of voting on the constitutional amendment last week and said the result locally was due to the excellent explanatory editorial published in last Tuesday's Daily Record.

Mrs. Mitchener had a display of jewelry which she had made. The profits are devoted to the fund of the Monroe County General Hospital, it was said.

The co-hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. T. Manning Curtis, Mrs. Thomas A. Bennett Jr. and Mrs. Donald Gilpin. Assisting were: Mrs. Oscar Liljenstein, Mrs. E. B. Malsner, Mrs. George Marsh, Mrs. Thomas McCool, Mrs. Nathan G. Meyer, Mrs. William Michelfelder, Mrs. LeRoy Mikels, and Mrs. Robert Miller.

Table decorations were in charge of Mrs. Robert Miller, while Mrs. McCool and Mrs. LeRoy Mikels poured. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. Liljenstein, Mrs. Ruth Malsner and Mrs. Miller.

Laurel Court To Have Initiation

Laurel Court, Order of Amaranth, will meet tonight at 8 at Odd Fellows Hall when there will be initiation and refreshments will be served following the session.

Doll Clothes Among Bazaar Items Listed

Tannersville — The Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. held a meeting on Thursday night, Nov. 6, which was well attended. Miss Graham Bryson and Mrs. Elsie Beseker, hostesses, served gingerbread with whipped cream, cake and hot beverages. They had arranged a centerpiece of fruit and red berries in a flower basket.

The members brought in many finished articles for the bazaar to be held Dec. 4, including attractive doll clothes. There is such a fine assortment already on hand and in process of completion that the president, Mrs. Frances Beseker, feels justified in reminding the community that this bazaar they will find a wide choice of Christmas gifts from which to choose, thereby helping the Fire Co. funds as well.

The workers for the bazaar have been divided into teams similar to those who helped with the carnival, with Mrs. Laura Niering heading the Scotrun section; Mrs. Vera Walters in Bartonsville; Mrs. Elsie Dailey, Tannersville; and Mrs. Gertrude Coffman the Henryville-Meistrstown section.

Santa Claus is arranging his schedule so as to be present from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, to visit briefly with the children. Refreshments will be served gratis to everyone patronizing the affair.

Ruth Howell and Nettie Dunbar will head the refreshment committee; Ruth Learn and Cora Smith are on the committee for prizes to be awarded in the games.

The group sent a card to Louis Martiniell who has been hospitalized for several days.

The door prize, donated by Mrs. Nettie Dunbar, was won by Mrs. Ruth Learn. The next meeting will be held November 20 and Miss Bryson and Elsie Beseker will again be hostesses.

Card Club At Gardner Home

Portland — The afternoon Card Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Gardner on Thursday afternoon at a dessert bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Bert Transue and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter.

Those present were Mrs. Blair Rusling, Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. Randall Carpenter, Mrs. Bert Transue, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon, Mrs. Harry Morgan, and Mrs. Frank Gardner.

The clock says 5:20. In another few minutes there should be some excitement around here. A certain young woman whose initials are GG, and whose first name is identical with her last (I'll never reveal her identity of course) has been fooling with the clock near the switchboard. It's my duty to tell her exactly and verbatim what Frieda Manze does when the alarm goes off . . . I've had a lot of compliments on my hair today, and can't be sure whether Mildred did it a bit differently, or whether it's the Helena Rubinstein shampoo from our cosmetics department which I was sampling. One thing I notice is that little by little silver threads are appearing on my tarnished top. Personally, I like it . . . Strange, isn't it, how one pretty glow of red can make a room bright — and make you feel warm and secure. I noticed this yesterday afternoon at dusk when I stopped by our housewares department to talk with Mary Hitesman. This particular red is a perforated shade atop a gleaming brass, swing-arm floor lamp. The price is $18.50, and it would be perfect in either home or office. . . . Another light one would never hide under a bushel is the three-way floor lamp, also of gleaming brass, with a narrow, very modern, brass edged shade of white spattered with gold. This is priced at $21.50, and is as regal a buy as could crown the Christmas season. . . . It's a case once again of "New York, here we come" as our department heads and their assistants set forth for the shows. Away at the moment are Rachel Arnold, Thelma Gordon, Carrie Rusk, Edith Pennington, Cora Albertson, Bud Altomere and Bill Wells. Baron Reinhardt, of the display department, is due to return tonight from Catskill, N. Y.; and John Leathers Frank Waller, Lenox Reid, Harry Congdon Jr., and Russell Altomere of our floor covering department, are among the store veterans having time off today, courtesy of Mr. Ernest Wyckoff. . . . I suppose one could call this "What the Well-Dressed Oven Wares." I'm referring of course to the new shipment of heavy pottery, including casseroles and individual bakers, in a lovely deep shade of turquoise. The casseroles sell for $1.69; bean pots, the same; individual bakers, 59c, and handled bakers, $3.98 for a set of four. . . . And the well dressed Kitchen Kute will surely wear one of those adorable aprons, newly arrived in Any Ellenberger's department. One of navy blue organically with bright floral chintz, and a similar one of brown, would be something new, near the range. So are those trimmed with quilted chintz, and the others with chintz halter and straps. They'll flatter the cook in the same way one of our huge servers from Italy will "platter" the turkey. These hand painted platters are huge, and sell at $23.50. Matching dinner plates, cups, saucers, and bread and butterers are available. If I had a wish-bone now, I'd be wishing for these as an extra-special reason to be grateful come November 27th. . . . One thing is certain — that wasn't a wish bone Bill Fisher broke Sunday when he tried to move a desk. Only thing good about it is that a toe isn't a wrist. Bill's "payroll," you see, and Thursday's coming up — but he can still write checks!

Special Service Gilbert Church

Auer's Paint Store Has Limited Supply Of Books Dealing With Home Decorating

"Tony" Auer, owner of Auer's Paint Store, 1016 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, has again secured a limited number of valuable home decorating booklets from the Glidden Company. These booklets, if you were to write for one, would cost you 20 cents. Auer's Paint Store is offering these same booklets free to any and all people who stop in the store. Remember though, the supply is limited so stop in as early this week as you can.

This booklet is all you need to be your own "expert decorator."

It is time to paint! You want fresh, new-looking colorful rooms. This book will help you create your own pleasing color schemes. You can save hours of shopping for colors with the new Spread Satin Dramatone—Color System which provides well over 4,000 color combinations from a selection of 180 beautiful colors.

You can see these colors and select several that you would like from the giant Spread Satin Color card at any Spread Satin store. You can check your selections with easy-to-use color harmony charts and see as many combinations of colors as you desire in the Spread Satin Color Selector. You can compare the color in large sheets and thus see the color effect you want to achieve before buying or applying the paint. Truly, this is the easiest way in the world to get color-perfect rooms!

Decorating problems start with floor covering colors . . . To be practical about home decorating, one should start with the color of the floor covering and build each room's color scheme around it. When this is done, the appearance of the floor covering is enhanced and the whole room becomes a harmonious unit with all colors in the room woven into a pleasing effect. Shown in this book is a series of wall and ceiling color schemes for popular floor covering colors. Each major scheme shown in the large illustrations has three alternate suggestions on the opposite page plus several additional colors (numbered as in the Spread Satin Dramatone Color System) which will go well with lighter or darker shades of the basic floor covering color. By following these suggestions, you can give your rooms smartness and charm without the expense of new floor coverings and furnishings.

So, make it a point today to stop at Auer's Paint Store and get your FREE copy.

Battery Test Is Important To Motorists

Daulton (Mose) Serfass, who operates the Serfass Gulf Service station, corner of Washington & N. Courtland Sts., East Stroudsburg, reminds motorists that one test of a battery is in engine "kick-off."

How long do you hold the starter button before your engine "kicks off"? If it's more than three seconds, be warned that it's time to check the battery and ignition system.

"Your battery guarantee contains an important fact that every motorist should know," Serfass adds. "And that fact is the closing date of the warranty a date that signals the warning that positive peak performance from your car battery may be a thing of the past."

You can extend your battery's "post-guarantee," he points out, and protect yourself against ignition failure, too, by having your battery checked and serviced regularly.

"Good service costs less," Serfass advises his customers. "It's really a double economy. First because it means fewer trips to the repair shop. Second, because this better quality service costs you nothing extra when you stop at 'The Friendly Station.'"

Fire Auxiliary To Sponsor Variety Show

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Stroud Township Fire Department will sponsor a variety show at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Clearview School.

Harold Albert will serve as master of ceremonies. Jenene Zugel will be the accompanist.

The program will include a medley played on little brown jugs by the Tennessee Seven; a tap dance by the Martz sisters; accordion solo, Billy Scheibel; novelty tap, Kay Edinger.

Mrs. Orien Reish will sing a Pennsylvania Dutch song, assisted by Arthur Hicks on the guitar followed by a tiny version of the hula hula by Candy Kohn and a vocal solo by Bill Bailey.

The Martz sisters and Kay Edinger will appear in a tap number and Arthur Hicks will play a guitar solo, followed by Sue Masters in a tap-toe number and Bruce Imb in an accordion solo.

Allen Roth, musical director of the Milton Berle television show, will present a few surprises of his own and his wife, Karen Roth, former radio and television performer, will sing a popular selection.

The second half of the program will include a miniature version of an old time minstrel with Beulah McConnell, John Darr, Ruth Anglemeyer, Milt Stevens, Mrs. Orien Reish, Arthur Hicks and Sue Masters as soloists; Ernest Anglemeyer and Howard Marshall as end men and Milt Stevens as interloper. Baron Reinhart will present a ventriloquist act.

Luther League Plans Meeting

The semi-monthly meeting of the Luther League of St. John's Lutheran Church will be held Wednesday night at 7.

President Norman Wangman and the advisers, Mrs. Russell Decker and Kathryn Yost urged the attendance of all the young people. Important business is to be decided. Members are asked to make returns on the church year calendar orders. The devotional and business session will be followed by a social hour.

Traffic Ticket Never Delivered

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The traffic speeding ticket was never delivered.

Policeman Leroy D. Pitcher said he was writing it out when the automobile driver, I. B. Burkett, 50, retired Navy chief machinist's mate, collapsed and died.

Deputy Coroner E. O. McFadden reported Burkett's death was probably due to a heart ailment.

Adan Bohner officiating. Burial will be in the Brodheadville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Red Cap 42 To Speak At Men's Night

Tomorrow night will be Men's Night in the anniversary celebration of the First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Raiston Young, more familiarly known as Red Cap 42 of Grand Central Station.

The service will be open to men and women alike. Special guests, however, will be members of the newly-formed Inter-Church Men's Council of Monroe County. The president of this new group, John Pennington, will be on the platform.

Mr. Young is probably the most famous porter in American history. It is a man who has learned to see his vocational life in the light of his Christian faith. Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at noon, he conducts an informal devotional service at track 13 in the busy Grand Central Terminal. Travelers from all sections of the country avail themselves of this little time of quiet.

Mr. Young is 52 years old. The people whom he has helped at Grand Central are legion. Letters come back to him again and again from people who felt that he had carried not only their bags but their burdens as well.

Major League Figures To Attend Banquet

Bartonsville—Curt Simmons, outstanding southpaw pitcher with the Philadelphia Phillies, and Elmer Valo, hard hitting outfielder with the Philadelphia A's, are numbered among the guests who will attend the Pocono Mountains Baseball League banquet here at the Bartonsville Hotel a week from today. Dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Walter Stem, chairman of the program committee, also announced that the guest list would include Walter Sebring, assistant superintendent of schools; Rev. William Wunder, Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and Rev. Adan A. Bohner, of the Hanover-Brodheadsville charge, of Evangelical and Reformed church, plus those donating trophies to individuals and teams in the circuit.

The list of donors includes: Rep. John S. Shotwell, Frank Thornton, of Baum's Sporting Goods, Jacob Altomero, sheriff; Amzi Altomero, commissioner; Harry Weiss, Indian Mountain Golf Club; the Republican Club, and The Daily Record. Wives and sweethearts of the guests are also invited.

Harry Janson and Morgan "Morg" Butz, both vice presidents of the league, are also members of the program committee.

Approximately 150 people are expected at the banquet.

The only official league business transacted at last night's meeting was a decision by the circuit to purchase a trophy for the regular season champion and award it on a rotating basis beginning with the 1953 campaign. A team must win the trophy three years to gain permanent possession.

Anamolink and Tobyhanna were the only teams not represented at last night's meeting, also held at the Bartonsville Hotel.

Ike's Putter Hurts Game

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower had putter trouble yesterday in shooting a 91 for 18 holes of golf played through intermittent rain.

On the 165-yard par three 12th hole at the Augusta National Golf Club, the general put his drive 30 feet from the pin after clearing a water hazard and a big sand trap.

But his putt rimmed the edge of the cup and refused to drop.

Ed Dudley, the club professional who played with Eisenhower, said the general was hitting his tee shots in fine fashion, but that wet greens spoiled his approach and putting game somewhat.

The general had a 47 on the front nine and a 41 on the home stretch.

Cartier Stops Graham In Sixth

Brooklyn (AP) — Walter Cartier, New York middleweight out of action for six months, started a comeback campaign last night by stopping Otis Graham of Philadelphia with a series of combination punches in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Cartier, who was going well in the middleweight ranks until being knocked out by Carl "Bobo" Olson of Honolulu, gave Graham an artistic beating. The Greenwich Village boy was leading on all three cards when he knocked Graham down three times in the hectic sixth and Referee Mark Conn stepped in to stop the slaughter at 1:31.

Cartier weighed 162, Graham 157½.

Bivins Substitutes For Satterfield

Chicago, (AP) — The Illinois Athletic Commission yesterday approved a heavyweight bout at Chicago Stadium November 26 between Jimmy Bivins and Ezzard Charles.

Bad Leg — Bob Satterfield originally was scheduled as Charles' opponent. Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club secretary, said Satterfield was unable to fight because of a bad leg.

Cavaliers, Mountaineers At Full Strength

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools are expected to be at full strength for this coming Saturday's football action, at which time the two grid machines take in two of the most important grid battles in the history of their respective schools.

Stroudsburg took part in a light workout yesterday in preparation for Saturday's invasion of Gordon Giffels field by a Northampton team that has won six straight games, although hard pressed to down Bangor last week.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis announced last night that his

Shippensburg Ends Perfect Season

Shippensburg, Pa., (AP) — How can you beat a football team which returns more than half its opponents' kickoffs for touchdowns?

The answer to that question at Shippensburg State Teachers College is the first unbeaten season in the school's 25-year history. The single wing Red Raiders closed out their season Saturday with seven straight victories.

"I think I've coached more powerful teams but I've never coached a team with more spirit," said coach Vinton Rambo. "You know, when a team runs back five of nine kickoffs for touchdowns in a single season, they're a great bunch."

The Red Raiders, one of the nation's top small college defensive units, scored 266 points to their opponents' 20 in compiling their first perfect record. All three opposition TD's came on desperation passes when the Raiders had been assured of victory.

Halfback Charlie Mills took the opening kick against Trenton, N. J. Teachers 95 yards for a score and a touchdown kickoff 160 yards against Millersville Teachers.

Halfback Spencer Keys ran through Kutztown Teachers for 100 yards with a halftime kick and then followed with an 95-yard return against Cheyney last Saturday. Halfback Eddie Moore also had a 95-yard return of the opening Cheyney kickoff.

In addition, two of the other four kickoff returns brought the ball up past the mid-field stripe.

"Running those kickoffs back like that can certainly demoralize an opponent," the 44-year-old Rambo admitted.

Dumont Seeks To Carry Six Football Tilts

New York (AP) — The Dumont television network sought permission yesterday to televise locally six college football games in the next two weeks but received a virtual "no" from the men who run the restricted college program.

Dr. Allen B. Dumont, president of the Allen B. Dumont Laboratories, Inc., wrote the heads of 10 institutions asking permission to televise these games on a local scale.

November 15 — Princeton-Yale, over WABD, New York; Columbia-Navy, over WTTG, Washington; and North Carolina State-Pittsburgh, over WDTV, Pittsburgh.

November 22 — Yale-Harvard, over WABD; Virginia-Washington & Lee, over WTTG; and Penn State-Pittsburgh, over WDTV.

Commenting on the request, Robert Hall of Yale University, chairman of the NCAA Television Committee, and Asa Bushnell, director of the 1952 college TV program, said in a joint statement: "We are amazed that the Dumont network should endeavor to break down a program with which the network is thoroughly familiar and which was approved by the vast majority of members of the NCAA and for which the network itself had a chance to bid before the program went into operation."

All networks had that opportunity and the fact that Dumont was unable, or unwilling, to make a successful bid for it at that time does not give them the right to try again."

Haner Holds Scoring Lead

Philadelphia, (AP) — Bob Haner of Villanova clings to the Pennsylvania collegiate football individual scoring lead with 84 points, but the field is closing in on him as the season heads into the closing few weeks.

The latest Associated Press survey yesterday showed that Haner scored his team's only touchdown last Saturday to give him 11 TDs, 18 conversions for 84 points. Harry Miller of Kings College, the early season leader, moved back into contention with a pair of six pointers to give him 13 touchdowns for 78 points.

Washington and Jefferson's Art Massaro came next with 75 points after scoring a total of 21 points last week.

West Chester's quarterback, Earl Hersh, tallied three times against Millersville and now sports a 13 TD, one conversion, total of 73. Bob Craig set a new scoring record at Lock Haven, upping his season's work to 12 touchdowns and a 72 point total.

American League Umpires Meet

Chicago, (AP) — American League umpires opened a two-day routine meeting with League President Will Harridge yesterday.

All 16 of the league's umpires attended. Also present in leading discussions on umpiring technique were Tom Connolly, umpire-in-chief, and his assistant, Cal Hubbard.

Hope Named To Golf Committee

Chicago (AP) — Bob Hope yesterday was elected chairman of the PGA Advisory Committee, succeeding his friendly rival, Bing Crosby.

Special Problems — The advisory committee is made up of 20 prominent business men who aid the PGA in special problems.

Bangor High's Yearlings Fall Before Northampton Foe, 24-6

Northampton—Bangor High School's junior varsity football squad fell before a similar band of gridders from Northampton High yesterday, 24-6, here on the winning contingent's home field.

The host squad rolled up an 18-0 advantage in the first half, when Ralph Knebone raced 30 yards for a touchdown in the first period, and then added a pair of six-pointers in the second quarter on six and 15-yard scrampers by Newhart and Chobock respectively.

Long Run — Bangor accounted for its only touchdown in the third quarter, when "Buddy" Parsons got off on the longest run of the day, a 70-yard scamper into paydirt. Knebone came back in the third stanza with a 50-yard run to account for Northampton's fourth and final touchdown.

Linesups follow: BANGOR (6) Ends—Ruggerio, Voorhes, Jones, Tackles—Roper, Lallier, Trayer, Marlow. Guards—Alberts, Kern, Krosko, Fale. Center—Eyns. Backs—Silmon, Parsons, Godshalk, DeFranco, DeFrank.

Canada Wins Initial Event

New York, (AP) — Canada scored its first victory in the 64th National Horse Show last night when W. R. "Bob" Ballard of the Dominion's equestrian team rode Relect to a flawless triumph in the International Individual Championship Challenge Trophy.

Large Field — Fifteen riders from five nations competed over the eight-jump course before some 10,000 at Madison Square Garden, but only five negotiated the difficult jumps without a knockdown.

In addition to Ballard, they were Pierre D'Orliola of France, Lt. Col. Charles Baker Jr., of Canada, Capt. Louis M. Magee of Ireland, and Billy Steinkraus, of the U. S. equestrian team, from Westport, Conn.

On the jump-off with the third, sixth and eighth barriers either raised or spread, Ballard cleared them all again without a fault.

D'Orliola, riding Ali Baba, and Baker, aboard Starlift, each had four faults in the jump-off, and tied for second. Ali Baba downed the sixth fence, Starlift the fourth.

Fourth went to Magee, riding Red Castle, and fifth to Steinkraus, astride Hollandia.

Ireland won another jumping victory in the afternoon, but with one more event up for decision before the eight-day show ends, the United States has clinched top honors among the riders from five nations.

Captain Colm O'Shea of the Irish Army team hustled Glendore faultlessly over the 10 tough obstacles to take the Pennsylvania National Trophy at the matinee.

Jack Sommers, Jim Fritz and Leon Albert are off the injured list and each in turn is ready for fulltime duty. Saturday's action is the final game for both teams before they clash at Memorial Stadium on Thanksgiving Day, at 10 a.m.

Wilson Asks Aid In Controlling "Tensions"

Chicago (AP) — Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said yesterday he will seek aid from coaches, athletic directors and game officials for controlling "tensions" that have built up this season in conference football.

Wilson mapped this plan after receiving reports from Saturday's Michigan State-Indiana game in which eight players were ejected. The players were banished during the game at Bloomington, Ind. Six of them were Indiana players.

Reports — "I am still receiving reports on Saturday's games from officials, coaches and observers and studying them," said Wilson. "This has been a remarkable season of upsets and consequent tensions."

"I plan to communicate with conference coaches, athletic directors and officials this week so that each will do his part to control the tensions that exist and thereby eliminate incidents both on and off the field which have no place in intercollegiate football."

Volley Ball Scheduled

Men's volleyball will be held at the YMCA today at 8:15 p.m. and it's open to anyone wishing to play.

Three Representatives Attend Cage Meeting

Tannersville, Reenders and Brodheads, the three teams that were represented at the first meeting of the Pocono Mountains Basketball League held this year were the only three in attendance last night, when the second meeting was held at the Monroe County YMCA.

Harold James represented Tannersville; Claude Frable, Reenders, and Don Miller, Brodheads.

The league has scheduled one more meeting, next Monday, at the YMCA, but it will be the last gathering unless some progress is shown. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

A total of 18 boys put in an appearance for the first Biddy Basketball League practice session at the YMCA yesterday, but more are expected at future drill sessions.

The next practice will be held tomorrow at 4:15 p.m. and every Monday and Wednesday thereafter, at the same time.

Kleinle, Smith, Armitage Take Care Of Scoring

First and third period touchdowns carried the Stroudsburg High junior varsity grid machine to a 13-6 victory over the Slatington yearlings yesterday at Gordon Giffels field, as the Mountaineers wound up the present campaign with three victories in five trips to the gridiron.

The victories were scored over Bangor and Pen Argyl in addition to Slatington, while the setbacks were suffered at the hands of East Stroudsburg and Palmerton.

Burt Kleinle lifted the lid on the scoring, while the fancy stepping back circled end for 20 yards and the touchdown. Quarterback Ronald "Golden Greek" Armitage added the extra point on a quarterback sneak and the Mountaineers led 7-0.

All Quiet — All was quiet for the remainder of the first half, but the Mountaineers came back in the third period to put the game on ice. "Ducky" Smith rammed across for the touchdown, but the extra point attempt met with failure and the Mountaineers held a 13-0 edge at that point.

Slatington registered its only touchdown of the game early in the fourth period, when Marry Marshall raced around his own right end and down the far sidelines for the six-pointer. However, a pass for the extra point was battered down and the Mountaineers finished on the long end of a 13-6 count.

The final portion of the game was played in Slatington territory.

Linesups follow: SLATINGTON (6) Ends—Schaeffer, Howard, Baus, G. Fritzinger. Tackles—Mack, Wentz, R. Fritzinger, Young. Guards—Schlosser, R. Fritzinger, P. Owens, Reitz. Center—Paine. ## Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Football fans searching for outstanding games can stop looking toward the East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg tussle on Thanksgiving day, as this contest will be only one of three terrific grid battles to be played in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area before the curtain comes down on the current campaign. The shame of the matter is the fact that two of these headline attractions are to be played on the same day and at exactly the same time.

East Stroudsburg will put its chances of a tie for the Lehigh-Northampton League title on the line against Nazareth, a good team that will be out to start another winning streak this weekend, after bowing to Emmaus in a surprise upset last Saturday. Nazareth used East Stroudsburg as its first victim in a streak that ran 25 games without a defeat. However, that happened back in 1949 and things are much different this season, as the Cavaliers are currently in the midst of their most successful grid campaign in history and have eyes and hearts set on at least a tie for the circuit championship.

The Cavaliers will be at full strength, after enjoying a weekend off from the grid wars last week. Jim Fritz, Leon Alberts and Jack Sommers are sound again and the Memorial Stadium clash this coming Saturday should be a honey. I might mention at this time that Sommers is the most versatile football player this writer has ever witnessed. He plays quarterback, halfback, end and center, whatever the situation demands at the time. Jack certainly is a valuable man to have around when the going gets tough.

Stroudsburg, while East Stroudsburg and Nazareth are battling for yardage, will be at home at Gordon Giffels field with Northampton team that has now won six straight games after an opening day loss at Phillipsburg, although Bangor proved a tough nut to crack last Saturday. Stroudsburg has come along with leaps and bounds in recent weeks and the Mountaineers are just about ripe to pull off a big upset, with Northampton the victim—providing every break in the books goes in favor of the maroon and white clad contingent.

Victories over Nazareth and Northampton in the same year by the local clubs is unheard of, much less in the same day. However, I am of the opinion that if the Cavaliers and Mountaineers can pull themselves up for these games, they both can come through with very important victories, the most important registered by either club this season. If only something could be done in the fading hours to shift the two games to different days.

In addition to the pair of high school games, those that follow the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College grid machine may watch the Warriors in action next Saturday, when the charges of Coach Gene Martin play host to Arnold, on the Normal Hill field. Arnold won one of those weird games over Quonset, R. I. Naval Air Station last Saturday, by an 8-7 tabulation. The Warriors will be out to even their grid record at four wins and the same number of setbacks.

Benny Jones failed to land his second straight Southern Conference crown when his Brookville gridders failed to convert one extra point and lost by a 19-18 margin to Reynoldsville, the team that won the 1952 conference laurels. Jones is a graduate of both Stroudsburg High and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Demands for reserve seat tickets for the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg tussle are even greater now than prior to the weekend.

Johnny Logan, highly regarded shortstop of the Boston Braves, named the Philadelphia Phillies as the team to beat in the National League next season, during his visit to Stroudsburg last weekend. However, the very likeable Logan quickly pointed out that his own Braves would be in the thick of the battle by 1954, when at least three key performers will be out of the service. Johnny added that the Boston club would be greatly improved next season.

Jack Darr's brilliant howling exhibition against Capuro's Cities Service last Saturday put the Crowe's Insurance kegler back into first place in the Delaware Valley League average race, replacing teammate Jake Nitel who held the top spot last week. Darr's average is now 199, while Nitel is second with a 196-plus mark and John Otto, Dainty Potato Chips, is third with a 196 tabulation.

ESSTC Squad Escapes Injury

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College emerged from last Friday's football game with Ithaca College without a serious injury, it was reported last night by Gene Martin, head grid mentor at ESSTC.

Day Off — However, Ed Oliver, ESSTC quarterback, aggravated an old leg injury, although the place-kicking expert is ready to return to action now.

Tom Smith, who missed the Ithaca game because of a knee injury, is on the doubtful list at the present time.

The Warriors enjoyed a day off from practice grind yesterday, but will hold a light drill in preparation for Saturday's clash with Arnold today.

A scrimmage will probably be held tomorrow, with light drills the order of the day on Thursday and Friday.

Scott To Skate — New York, (AP) — Barbara Ann Scott, former Olympic figure skating champion, will make her second appearance with the Hollywood Ice Revue in Madison Square Garden beginning January 15.

Jethroe's Speed Costly — Delaware, O., (AP) — Sam Jethroe, fleet Boston Brave outfielder, carried his speed onto a Delaware County highway Sunday and ended up in Mayor M. F. Pinney's court. He was fined $15 and costs

Umpire Gives Crying Title To Yankees

Buffalo, N. Y., (AP)—Larry Goetz, outspoken veteran umpire of the National Baseball League, said yesterday the New York Yankees won the crying championship even before they won the World Series.

Goetz said in an interview Buffalo Evening News:

"Everywhere I go, guys ask me about that play on first base that Art Pasarella made calling a Yankee out. So an umpire made a mistake. Pasarella didn't cry about it.

"But those Yankees cried. They have been the crying team in the business this year. They won the crying championship even before they won the World Series.

"As for the crying, why those Yankees played the worst fielding series I ever saw, and I've been in the National League 18 years.

"They should spend a little more time crying about their errors and sharpen up their game. That would help. No umpire can help 'em."

Indians Beat All-American Drums For Back

Williamsburg, Va. (AP)—Ed Moduszewski has become the football idol of this small colonial community.

He plays quarterback for William and Mary's Indians. Moduszewski's teammates and Coach Jackie Freeman call him "Meadows" for short. They figure it saves a lot of time.

Actually, Meadows is a senior. He's played every position in the Indian backfield during his college career. As a quarterback, though, he's merely a freshman.

Yet, Moduszewski has been labeled by coaches of opposing teams and sports writers as the greatest running quarterback in college football today. They say he can beat you by himself.

Mastered Play

It isn't any wonder. For Meadows, a candidate for All-American honors, has mastered the split-T formation's deadly pitch-and-keep option play so well he's picked up 1,192 yards in total offense in the Tribe's seven games.

His yardage collection ranked him first in the Southern Conference last week and eighteenth in the nation. Last Saturday, he added 266 more yards and probably will improve on his national ranking this week.

Moduszewski demonstrated his prowess last week to Virginia Tech's Gobblers, whipped them, 35-15. Afterwards, Tech Coach Frank Moseley said:

"That guy's the pro-type, who beat us by himself."

Somebody asked Moseley to compare Moduszewski with Kentucky's former star, Vito "Babe" Parrilli, Moseley, who coached Parrilli as Kentucky backfield mentor, replied:

"Parrilli could do only one thing—pass. But this Moduszewski you never know what he's going to do. Everything he does, he does splendidly."

Four Teams Battle For Big Ten Grid Laurels

By Charles Chamberlain

Chicago, (AP)—The big squeeze is on in the Big Ten this week as the struggle for the football championship and Rose Bowl trip enters the semi-final stage.

With only two games to go before the upset-harassed season ends November 22, four teams remain as contenders in what has become one of the unpredictable wind ups in Big Ten history.

Holds Lead

But that point in the campaign is approaching where most of the leaders must battle each other. With ties—counting one-half game won and one-half game lost in the standings—a possibility, the issue is still out on the limb.

Purdue is still ahead after the conference's wrecking-crew, Minnesota, fought the Bolleymakers to a 14-14 standstill Saturday. Those two teams plus Wisconsin and Michigan make up the big four in the bunched showdown.

The muddle may be cleared this Saturday at Ann Arbor when Purdue clashes with Michigan. A victory here for the Bolleymakers would just about give them the crown and Rose Bowl assignment. Michigan, whose 3-1 league record matches Wisconsin, is ready to go all-out against Purdue. The Wolverines breezed over Cornell 11-14 in an interregional breather Saturday.

Michigan's finale is at Ohio State 3-2—another blistering rivalry. With Michigan and Purdue at each other's throats, Wisconsin is in a position to take full advantage.

The Badgers invade Indiana Saturday and figure to win despite their scare in snatching a 24-20 decision from eighth-place Northwestern.

Minnesota, with three victories, one loss and a tie, meanwhile faces Nebraska in non-league competition.

Navy Features Its Own Type Of 'Ike' Jacket

Annapolis, Md. (AP)—The Navy, too, is proud of an "Ike" jacket.

The Army named a dress uniform jacket for General Eisenhower. The Navy dubbed one like a straight jacket for a football guard whose name is pronounced the same as the President-elect's, but spelled slightly different.

Protection

The guard, Steve Eisenhauer, of Sheffield, Pa., wore the jacket to protect his bruised stomach muscles against Duke last Saturday.

"It was like a straight jacket, and Steve couldn't bend at the waist," explained Dr. A. L. Gunderson yesterday. "It was made of fiber board and lined with sponge rubber, about eight inches wide and 20 inches around from front to the middle of his back."

Four Matches On Tap

Four matches are on tap for the Pocono Bowling League today, at the Pocono Bowling Center, at 7 p. m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Kulp's Foundry vs Anselomink.

Alleys three and four—Worthington Mower vs Faithful Class.

Alleys five and six—Transue Auto Body vs Patterson-Kelley.

Alleys seven and eight—Keiper's Laundry vs C. G. Bush.

Savings-Loan Bankers Laud Newspaper Ads

New York City — Newspaper are "the most popular advertising medium" for the savings and loan business, delegates to the 60th annual convention of the United States Savings and Loan League were told yesterday.

More than 2,500 savings and loan bankers from 48 states are attending the week-long convention here. The bankers heard an official report stating that savings and loan associations are growing at the fastest clip in history.

A recent survey of 141 leading savings associations showed that newspaper lineages have been used this year by 97 per cent of the reporting group, the league's advertising and business development committee said.

"Of this total, 27 per cent earned more than half of their total advertising budget for newspaper space," the report asserted.

Kunkletown Firemen Test New Engine

Kunkletown—Members of the newly organized Kunkletown Fire Co. tested their fire engine Sunday afternoon.

Instructions were given by George Samok, Palmerton's fire chief. He answered questions relating to the truck which was acquired for $500 from Slatington. The demonstration was held on the property of Floyd Smith, of Smith Gap.

Preparations are being made for a campaign of Eldred Township residents for funds and members. Committee personnel includes Harry Hummel and Quinton Smith, Smith Gap; Arlington Barlieb and David Frantz, Saylorburg; Floyd Borger and Gene Greenzweig, Fiddletown; Adam Mackes and Clara Smale, Little Washington; Walter Smith and Harvey Smale, Kunkletown; Elwood Shupp and Adam Kuehner, Palmerton; and Herman Barlieb and Earl Kunkle, left section.

Organization of a ladies auxiliary will occur at Pearson's Hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

Methodist Church will hold a ham dinner in the church parlors on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 5 p.m.

Patrick Fahey returned home from St. Mary's Hospital, Scranton, on Tuesday.

Stern Sworn In As Chief Justice Of Supreme Court; Stanley Custody Case Heard

Philadelphia, (AP)—A packed courtroom watched Justice Horace Stern sworn in as chief justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court yesterday and later heard an appeal to the court by Bonnie Sue Stanley that she be given legal custody of her one-year-old daughter.

Justice Allen L. Stearns administered the oath of office to the 74-year-old Philadelphia-born Stern, who became the 27th chief justice since 1776 after Chief Justice Charles B. Drew resigned on Nov. 1, two months before his 21-year term would have expired.

Then former U. S. Sen. George Wharton Pepper, speaking for the bar, praised Stern as a man "whose experience, learning, character and all-around ability well qualifies you for this most responsible task."

Stern replied that "my colleagues and I are keenly aware of the great historical background of this high and venerable court and we shall always strive to maintain the high standards and accomplishments of our predecessors."

Before hearing the Stanley adoption case, the court admitted 46 new lawyers to the bar and Chief Justice Stern told them "service for others" is the accepted standard of success rather than "monetary reward."

In the Stanley case, the court heard an appeal from a girl who bore an illegitimate child at the Rosalia Foundling Home, Pittsburgh, when she was 17.

She signed a "consent of adoption" and left the hospital, returning to her home in West Virginia. Several months later she instituted proceedings in the Allegheny County Court to obtain possession of her child. Meanwhile the foundling home had placed the child in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Marhofer, Meadville, for adoption and proceedings were started.

The girl's request for possession of the child, and the Marhofers' adoption proceedings, were heard by Judge Herbert A. Mook of Crawford County as one case and he ruled in favor of the Marhofers.

Yesterday, Norman J. Landy, counsel for Bonnie Sue, contended that she did not abandon the child nor did she have intent to abandon the child.

He said she attempted to contact the foundling home soon after her return home and was unsuccessful. Landy said the only question is whether "she intended to abandon Sharon. It is clearly shown she did not."

Replying, Gerald D. Prather, said that Judge Mook had "disbelieved the testimony of Bonnie Sue in preference to the testimony of Sister Miriam Theresa, social director at the foundling home, and other social workers."

"She told them before the birth of the child that she wanted to abandon it," Prather continued.

At this point, one of the numerous interruptions of the arguments by the justices took place. Justice Charles A. Jones told Prather: "I think a young girl in that position would certainly feel that way. But she exhibited feeling later which showed her to possess maternal instincts which tie her to this child."

Chief Justice Stern commented: "Can you imagine the initial reaction of this girl? I imagine it was one of disgrace. Later when she had collected herself she felt humanity for the child and exhibited this through the maternal instinct of trying to obtain her child."

Justice John C. Bell Jr., told both sides "what we want to know here is whether she made any concerted move to obtain information about her child. That is most important here."

The ancient Roman roads usually were too narrow for modern use, especially where they passed through archways, and grades often were far steeper than those permitted on modern roads.

YOUR HOROSCOPE TODAY

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Being superstitious is hardly sinful though it could annoy others doing "miserably good." But watch out to overestimate your ability and you can succeed.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Good prospects for well planned business propositions. Examine your methods; they fall clean ahead! Romance favored at right angle.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Time taken for talents, unexpected happenings. Don't grieve over them. You may be confronted with contention.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—If you had backed success, profitable going watch that distribution does not come through snuggles. Don't lose the urge to achieve better.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Excellent planetary configurations for all smart, intelligently presented matters. Get an early start and keep sensible pace. Devote considerable time to friends, family.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Check carefully your outlook, your understanding of tasks before you. Have ample margin for changing the management of affairs, problems.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Opportunity time to try one or two post-up ideas. Don't disregard the usual. Expect heavenly love, worthy effort. Heed authoritative surveys.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—Give special attention to money and personal investments. There are unexpected gains to be had. Be alert!

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—Don't neglect little issues, as you may look upon them. They could be largely gained if treated with due consideration.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Your approach to all matters need not be orthodox nor frozen to family patterns. Try the usefully unusual. The different if not useful.

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Look for results for intelligent management and execution. Stars now favor the talents you can employ so wisely.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Follow up in things you are trained; also, most modern methods of improvement. Be not bound to time-worn traditions.

MARCH TODAY: Brilliant mind, you usually can accomplish many things while others are still planning. However, you must not overdo, strain health and nerves, and set others "on edge." Take time for relaxation; enjoy children's company. Try daily not speedily as many do. You can lead, or follow a leader easily.

BIRTHDAYS: Victor Krumpholtz, ex-king of Italy; Gen. Geo. S. Patton, "Blood and Guts" of World War I; Maude Adams, noted actress

Board Buys Plot Adjoining School Site

Eight acres have been added to the site for the Hamilton Township Elementary School, Recorder Floyd Butz noted yesterday.

The addition brings the total school site acreage to about 17.5. The Hamilton school district acquired the original 9.5 acres from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. McGuire, Allentown, last July. The McGuires made a gift to the school board of most of the land.

The school board then turned the property over to the State Public School Building Authority, which has agreed to finance and construct the new school.

At that time the school board also took an option on the additional piece of about eight acres, adjoining the original tract.

The deed recorded yesterday showed transfer of that eight-acre piece from the McGuires to the school district. The school district will retain possession of the newly-acquired tract.

The new piece was purchased for $3,075. It has a frontage of about 615 feet on Route 12, between Sciota and Saylorburg.

At the site a shed has been constructed, but actual building has not yet begun. No date has been set for the start of construction.

Deed Lists 19 Persons As Grantors

In a deed recorded yesterday at the Court House, a total of 19 grantors were listed. The grantee, Emma Zacharias, Kunkletown RD 1, was also one of the grantors. She was the recipient of property adjoining that of Steward Smale, in Polk Township.

Other deeds recorded:

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Eyer, Hamilton Township, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Starnes, Barrett Township, a small tract in Hamilton on Route 209.

Cakeout Inc., Middle Smithfield Township, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kohler, Rahway, N.J., a small piece of land in Middle Smithfield Township, on the north bank of Big Bushkill Creek.

Marine Anniversary Celebrated

The 177th anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps was celebrated locally over the weekend by a dance at the VFW in Stroudsburg.

Sponsors were the Monroe County Detachment of the Marine Corps League and the detachment's auxiliary. A ceremonial birthday cake was cut at midnight by Robert Shaw, Stroudsburg, commandant.

and Earl Brown, East Stroudsburg, adjutant paymaster.

The dance was held to further the program for sending packages to servicemen overseas and in the U. S. The auxiliary has sent 50 packages this year.

Gap Council Plans Repair Of Chlorinator

Delaware Water Gap—Richard Hauser and Richard Carlton were named to investigate repairs to the chlorinator house of the locally owned water company by borough council last week.

Council approved the purchase of a new color wheel for the chlorinator and decided to meet each Wednesday with the water committee to revise the present code.

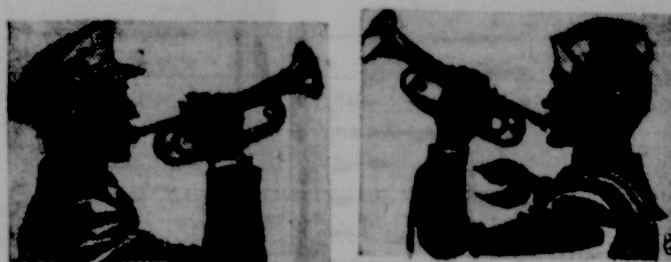

A request of a prospective home builder to have the borough repair the road past Hotel Delaware Water Gap and lay water pipe was refused by council who advised others contemplating building to lay a shale base to the roadway before council would approve further work. It was reported that paving and laying of water pipe at the upper end of Shepard Ave. was nearing completion. Francis Drake, council president, presided.
